

Gulf Coast Fair Housing Center
Presents
MLK Moment of Silence

The federal Fair Housing Act was passed on April 11, 1968, one week after MLK's assassination, to mark his fight for Civil Rights in all areas, including housing.

Join us on April 4, 2009 at Isaiah Fredericks Community Center
3312 MLK Drive
Gulfport, MS 39501

at 1:00pm for refreshments & a moment of silence.

The Gulf Coast Fair Housing Center is a nonprofit organization dedicated to eliminating housing discrimination and furthering equal housing opportunities through education, outreach, advocacy and enforcement of fair housing laws.
